

ITF STAFF SCHOOL CELEBRATES ITS SILVER JUBILEE

The Director General of the Industrial Training Fund, Sir Joseph N. Ari, has urged students of the ITF Staff School to imbibe the habit of reflecting on their actions and decisions and the consequences of such.

Ari, who was addressing the graduating students of year 20016/2017 academic session said the school curriculum, atmosphere and regulations were all designed to fully develop the students' power of discernment.

The DG, who was represented by the Director, Administration and Human Resource, Mrs. Roselyn Mailumo said that the occasion was a unique one as it combined the presentation of prizes to deserving students, the launching of the maiden edition of the school magazine- The Trail Blazers- and the celebration of the School's Silver jubilee, which he described as a milestone in the history of the institution.

He stressed that the moment called for sober reflection on the years gone by and a positive rumination for the years ahead.

The DG congratulated the graduating students and pupils describing the graduation as the beginning of a new dawn in their lives especially to the best graduating student, Mr. Phineas Israel, whom he urged to strive to keep the flag flying.

The Principal of the school, Mrs. Nancy Ndidiammka Ekong, in her remarks cited some of the school's achievements in the 2016/2017 academic session to include over 90 percent success in the JAMB examinations as most of the students who sat for the examinations in the school scored above the cutoff point, posting of excellent performances in all sports and academic competitions it participated.

Mrs. Ekong added further that as part of efforts to achievement of academic excellence in a changing world, the school painstakingly conducted entrance examination and interview to select new intakes into the Nursery and Secondary School.

She attributed the achievements of the school to the continued support by the ITF Management to the school to ensure that it imparts requisite knowledge that would propel students to excellence.

She urged the graduating students to be good ambassadors of the school, by displaying creativity, commitment and innovation, which must always be their watch words at all times.

The Ceremony was attended by parents, traditional rulers, top civil servants, media men and well-wishers.
